

The Basics of Boardmaker® Online

July 27, 2016

8:30 AM – 3:00 PM (CDT)

Workshop #133-16

GRREC Office and Training Facility • 230 Technology Way • Bowling Green • 42101

Boardmaker® Online is a tool for delivering personalized instruction for students with moderate and severe disabilities. With Boardmaker® Online, one can create, save, share and find activities created by others. The following are some unique features:

- Create activities from a template or from scratch
- Upload activities and share with others
- Track student progress
- Access activities from a Windows or Mac Computer, iPad, or Tobii Dynavox T-Series Device
- Adjust accessibility options for a student
- Print activities

During this presentation, participants will:

- Learn the basic features of Boardmaker® Online
- Learn how to work with buttons and edit symbols
- Learn how to create activities from an on-screen interactive activity template or from scratch

Participants will also have the opportunity to create a book and an additional activity. A final part of the presentation will be a demonstration of the Boardmaker® Online app for iPad and the many online resources available to teachers.

Jackie Williams is an assistant principal and former teacher of students with moderate to severe disabilities. She has a M.Ed. with a concentration in moderate to severe disabilities, a B.S. in Elementary Education, Director of Special Education certification, and a Rank I in Instructional Leadership. Jackie has worked in multiple capacities in Breckinridge County over the past 10 years, including low-incidence (FMD) teacher for 4 years, 3rd grade general education teacher, and 4th grade self-contained classroom for gifted students. Jackie is a Safe Crisis Management instructor, member of the District Autism Team, and Specially Designed Instruction Coach. She enjoys learning and teaching educators effective, educational practices in the areas of Autism Spectrum Disorder, positive behavior supports, and assistive technology.
